GRANITEVILLE

Mrs. Bowen and children of Baltimore, Md., are the guests of Mrs. George Laird. Misses Elizabeth Hellman and Mamie Norris accompanied Mrs. Bowen and will remain here for ten weeks.

Mrs. Margaret Alexander and two daughters, Mrs. H. Houghton and Mrs. W. B. Mackenzie of Barre, visited at the home of Mrs. W. M. Alexander yesterday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Sheridan, July 19.

About seventy-five friends of Miss Florence Prescott gathered at the gymnasium hall Wednesday evening, the occasion being Miss Prescott's 26th birthday. The affair was a complete surprise. Miss Prescott was given a purse of money. Dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening. At 11 o'clock a light collation was served by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Duquette, Misses Margaret McDonald, Yvonne Morin and Agnes Haley. The party dispersed at midnight, everyone having spent a very enjoyable evening.

Miss Cecelia O'Herrin will leave for Rochester to-morrow night, where she will be employed in the postoffice.

Moving the Grown Tree.

Aran't there some promising saplings wasting their good looks in your woodlot that you can find time to dig and plant near the house? Have you an old shade tree that is getting ready to die, or a bald spot in the yard with no tree at all? Put in a little one, advises U. B. Hill in Farm and Home, and you'll find it pays, not only in beauty and sentiment, but in comfort in future dog days, and in the salubrious of your place if you ever want to sell. The job can be fitted in before the rush of spring work.

In moving the tree, first dig out a circle as near the size of the crown of the tree as possible, making sure to get all the roots. Leave the soil on it; hold the soil together. Cut all broken roots off smooth.

In setting, have the hole deeper than the roots will reach which insures them a soft place to start. Spread the roots naturally and sift in rich surface soil. The tree must be set no deeper than it stood naturally; this is so important that one person had better hold the tree up while another shovels.

Water the tree if it is planted in its growing season, otherwise not. Heap a mound of dry soil around the base and keep this stirred to prevent caking. Don't let soil form near the tree at first. The best time to transplant is just before growth starts, though the fall or late spring will do. Pick a cloudy day for the work. Prune the top according to the amount you cut off the roots.

H., where they expect to remain until the middle of July. The Metcalf family are making the journey by automobile and will take two days to make the trip.

The Barre Board of Trade want 40 automobiles for the free use of those going on the better acquaintance trip to Chelsea Wednesday evening, July 26. Please offer the organization the use of your car. All members of the Board of Trade, with ladies, are expected to attend. Free transportation by automobile from Barre to Chelsea and return to holders of super tickets, starting from park in front of open house at 5:45.

John Soule of Berkeley hill had the misfortune to lose a valuable driving horse considered worth about $250. The cause of the horse's death was due to laminitis, a disease common to horse-kind in this zone, it being an inflammation of the fleshy laminae of the horse's hoof, resulting from overfeeding, drafts or drinking of cold water.

Mrs. Thomas Haley of Graniteville, Mrs. George Paiment of South Main street and Miss Rita Paiment of Senary street left Saturday on a trip to Quebec. On their way back they plan to visit Montreal and St. Lawrence, the two former expecting to terminate their stay at the end of a fortnight, while Miss Rita Paiment will remain for a longer time.

On the Berlin street grounds this evening at 6 o'clock the first of a series of benefit social games will be played under the auspices of the Bonaccords and the Rangers. Proceeds from the games will go toward establishing a fund for the assistance of needy members. The teams will line up much as follows: A team, T. Findlay, Wilson, Kerr, captain Booth, Counts, Innes, A. Anderson, Laing, A. Duguid, Mitchell and Nicol; B team, Ross, Captain Bremner, Webster Watt, Bisset, Johnstone, G. Anderson, Smith, Walker, McInnis, Seivewright.

A pair of young mules owned by Horace Walker of Chelsea and used to convey market produce to Barre thought they would try out some of their coltish pranks in the city and see if they could carry them out as successfully as they can out on the farm. When Mr. Walker left them on Elm street near the alleyway leading to the rear end of Ladd's store, where he went to gather his egg crates ready to load and start on the homeward journey, the mules started on a mad rush down Elm street, grazing a telephone pole and ran into the granite watering place at the junction of Washington and Main streets, breaking the wagon pole, but otherwise not damaging the wagon. The mules came out little the worse for the experience.

The display window at the Moore & Owens store on North Main street bristled more than ever with ammunition this morning when two modern shells, one an 18-inch shrapnel and the other a machine gun cartridge, were added to the collection of Civil war munitions unearthed by Matt. Haley at Vicksburg a few weeks ago. Moore & Owens do not anticipate a long siege, but a very interesting contrast in the missiles of to-day and the ammunition of a half-century ago is shown and the size of the exhibit suggests that the clothiers are thorough believers in preparedness. In connection with the Vicksburg relics, John R. Wilson of Worcester, who was here this week for the veterans' reunion at Dewey park, expresses his opinion that the ancient rifle uncovered by Mr. Haley while setting a memorial by a weapon of the type known as the Belgian rifle, and not a Springfield gun, a view that is shared by O. J. Dodge, who is familiar with rifle designs.

Rufus G. Robinson, secretary of the Granite Mutual Fire Insurance Co., received painful abrasions about the scalp early last evening when the automobile in which his daughter, Ruth, was learning to drive, crashed into a tree. Mr. Robinson was in the front seat, assisting his daughter, and it was when the windshield was shattered as the car struck the tree that he received several cuts. The accident occurred as Miss Robinson was attempting to guide the car along East street struck a piece of curbing on the corner and probably the driver lost her grasp on the steering wheel at this unexpected turn of events for the car straightway bumped into a tree. Mr. Robinson went to his home and had his cuts bandaged, calling afterward at the office of a Washington-street physician to have them dressed. Miss Robinson escaped injury in the mishap and the car was slightly damaged in the region of the mud guard.
